

After Hours Barbershop Quartet Biography

After Hours Barbershop Quartet, based in Peoria, Illinois, was formed in 2006. Although they only intended to sing for a single talent show, After Hours “caught the barbershop bug” and continued performing, singing at venues ranging from kindergarten classes to formal banquets. They have enjoyed coaching sessions with several champion barbershoppers, including Eric Dalbey of Vocal Spectrum, the 2006 International Barbershop Quartet Champions.

In the spring of 2009, After Hours competed at the Illinois District Spring Convention, where they placed first in the collegiate division and second overall. The following fall, they placed second overall at the Illinois District Fall Convention.
